With double glazing and safety glass throughout, the home ensures a quiet and secure environment. The high-quality build, constructed by a Danish developer in 1985, is robust, well-insulated, and includes air conditioning to ensure comfort and cooling during the summer as well as heating during the winter. Additionally, the cozy fireplace makes the space inviting on cooler evenings, offering year-round comfort regardless of the season. The property also features fiber optic, allowing for high internet speeds.
